purifier, it is very much superior to any other preparation of Sarsaparilla. All persons of scrupulous or consumptive tendencies, and especially delicate children, are sure to be greatly benefited by its use." W. H. Smith, 100 Washington St., Boston, writes: "For five years I was troubled with scrupulous complaints. I tried several different preparations, which did me little, if any good. Two bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla effected a complete cure. It is my opinion that this medicine is the best blood.

LOGAN LYING IN STATE

HIS REMAINS REMOVED FROM CALIFORNIA TO THE CAPITOL.

To the Music of the March of Union the Casket Containing All That is Mortal of Senator Logan is Taken From His late Residence and Placed in the Capitol.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—The casket of Gen. Logan's old home on the hill overlooking this city, were very impressive this morning. Early in the day the body, dressed in civilian costume of black broadcloth, the left breast covered with corps and association badges, was placed in the casket and the family were admitted to pay their last farewell with the dead. By this time the house was crowded with public men, and it seemed as if the city had come to pay its respects. Use it freely in my own case.

THE EXPRESS ROBBERS.

Oscar Cook Says Messenger Fatheringham Got $10,000 for His Share.

Mr. Louis, Dec. 31.—A messenger from Louisville to his city state Oscar Cook made a statement yesterday, in which he said that Fatheringham, the express messenger, who is now in jail, charged with complicity in the robbery, knew all about the robbery, and called him a witness to the attack of the robbers.

It is said that he was promised $10,000 of the amount stolen as his share of the booty, and that sum was a part of the money which Fredrick took to his mother for safe keeping.

A special from Kansas City states it was the intention of the conspirators to roll the car on the night of October 24, and that the car was to be taken to the city of St. Louis before that time, and on that date. On that night, however, there was not enough money in the car to pay the robbers for their trouble, and their plan was not fully carried out. The car was taken to the city of St. Louis, and the money was to be sent to Fatheringham, who doubtless accompanied his fellow conspirators to the penitentiary.

ROASTED IN ACID.

Horrible Massacre in White Willow Letter Carrier.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 31.—Shortly before 6 o'clock last evening, William Lester, aged thirty-three, met with a horrible accident at the soap and candle factory of M. Wark, at Poplar street Central Avenue. He was engaged in throwing out a load of waste to a car for the purpose of getting rid of the same when he accidentally slipped on the greasy floor and fell into the fluid. After considerably difficulty the unfortunate man was rescued by his employer's son. The hospital ambulance was telephoned for, and Lester was taken to that institution.

In the meantime the unfortunate man was suffering untold agony and the most excruciating pain. His body was literally roasted while the acid was being poured over the most powerful in combustion known to medical science. After undergoing the greatest agony the poor man died at 11:30 P.M. His death was welcomed as a relief to the hospital patients. The man was buried at 10 Price Hill road, was a married man, and had two children depending on him for support.

A TERRIBLE LYNNING.

YACOUTON, Mass., Dec. 31.—Milton Wadsworth, clerk of Wadsworth & Bros., druggists, about twenty miles from Wrentham, Mass., was murdered in the store on the night of the 28th. Circumstances directed suspicion toward Robert Beasley and Raymond Murphy, both of whom were held yesterday to answer for the killing. They were dangled at the end of ropes fastened to telephone poles.

SCARRED CHILDREN ESCAPE.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Dec. 31.—Three young school children returning from a Sunday school ride, were caught at Third street corner, near Niagara Falls, railroad, and the whole party narrowly escaped death. The boys were blowing their horns, and it was impossible to hear the whistle of the approaching train. The children, who had been running, were cut off the side of the engine's path as they would have been cut in two, and a boy carried some distance on the cow catcher. Half a dozen of the children were severely bruised, and Wm. Garfield had his arm broken, and crushed so it will have to be amputated.

BOSTON'S DOUBLE SUICIDE.

A Boston woman, Alice Little, a maid and nurse Bigelow was premeditated.

BOSTON, Dec. 31.—It is now believed that the suicide on Christmas day of Lizzie Hart and Sadie Bigelow was premeditated. On the Tuesday before their death they took a room at a lodging house, and gave out that they were engaged in giving out of Fannie Sammons, and Sadie Bigelow that on Mr. Johnson. This was done, it is thought, in view of their contemplated suicide and in order to conceal their identity. The laundry says that Alice Little, Sammons' maid, came well recommended. They appeared more than ordinarily good natured and happy. "Mrs. Sammons" or Lizzie Hart frequently played with the children but seldom had much to say to the maid of the house.

During the four days they were at the house the young women had no gentlemen callers, except a Christian affection, when the first day, when they were engaged in their laundry work, they went to a restaurant to dinner. The story is that the girls bought "rough on rate" on Christmas night of substantiation, and it is now supposed that they prepared themselves for the act on that day.

It is believed that they had been remunerated for their services, and upon this it is now believed that they resolved to take their own life.

They had planned to do it at the residence of their employer, at Jordan, Marsh & Co.'s under the name of given but Villard and Reynolds, the young men with whom they supposed on Christmas, may be the acquaintance was formed at that store.

Got No Christmas Gift.

JOLIET, Ill., Dec. 31.—James Kenmors, a foreigner, who was working for a New York charitable society, committed suicide by hanging himself on John Karr's barn, near Peotone, this country, yesterday morning.

Friday evening last, James Kenmors, in company with his wife, a young woman whom he had been raised, attended a Christmas tree. All those present received presents except Kenmors, who became very despondent to think that he had not been remembered.

He turned his thoughts upon his wife, and upon his mind that he resolved to take his own life.

When found he was hanging by a rope from a joist over the horse's manger.

Asleep While Slepting.

AKRON, Ohio, Dec. 31.—Yesterday afternoon while Mr. Fred Weeks was spending his vacation here, he was asleep in his bed close to the center in which Miss Anna Oberweissel, the girl being drawn close up to the carbons. The thighs of Weeks' shirt struck Miss Barber in the side with terrific force, giving her such a violent shock that she sprang up and distance by the force of the impact. The lady was picked up for dead, but has regained consciousness.

It Was His First Trip.

WYOMING, O., Dec. 31.—Henry Howell, a boy, 12, died Monday morning, having fallen from a high scaffolding while working on a building.

The scaffold was 15 feet high, and the boy fell 12 feet, striking his head on a stone.

He was unconscious for a short time, but recovered consciousness.

Mr. Joseph Chamberlain Changes His Mind in Regard to a Coalition Ministry.

LONDON, Dec. 31.—Mr. Joseph Chamberlain has changed his mind in regard to a coalition ministry, and wants to see Lord Hartington to accept office.

The situation is therefore materially changed, and it is possible that Lord Hartington may accept, though the Whigs Unite still distrust him.

EVERYTHING will be found the announcement of Mr. James S. Hise as a candidate for Mayor at the approaching city election. He enters the field a little late in the fight, having only two or three days to marshal his forces.

A series of meetings will be held in the Murphyville Methodist Episcopal Church, beginning at 6:30 o'clock next Monday night, January 3. Mr. Holmes Boulden, of Sarilia, has kindly consented to act as cornetist. All are invited.

After a test of over fifteen years there can be little question as to the durability of the celebrated Diamond lamp spectacles, and while they preserve the sight their lasting qualities are such as to make frequent changing unnecessary. The genuine are for sale by Ballenger.

FOR YOUNG'S experience in every clime on earth has proved Ayer's Cherry Peptoral to be the most reliable remedy for colds, coughs, and all lung diseases. Neglected colds often become incurable ailments. Deal with them in time and prevent their becoming deep-seated in the system.

At the watch meeting in the Sardis Methodist Episcopal Church this Friday evening, December 31, beginning at 9 o'clock, Rev. J. W. Harris, pastor of the M. E. Church, South, will preach. At 10 o'clock a prayer meeting led by James W. Bratton, followed by a testimony meeting conducted by John Robt. The exercises will close with a communion service and the ringing of the midnight bell.

THE friends of "Squire Leslie Mannen" will regret to learn that he was shot with a Roman candle Christmas night and will probably suffer a partial loss of his eyesight as a result of the burn. Some of the young men of Germantown were engaged in a battle with the candles at the time, and as Mr. Mannen, who was not a participant at all in the dangerous sport, came out of a store, a hall from one of the candles struck him near one of his eyes. His wound is painful and the burn may cause the loss of an eye. Fighting with Roman candles is too dangerous sport, and should not be allowed.

We Do Our Derby.

Something remarkable—the amount of news the Maysville Evening BULLETIN gets within its small and sparkling pages.—Cincinnati Times Star.

Weather Heading.

In a recent case mention was made of the fact that the Chattahoochee Railroad in Eastern Kentucky had been ordered sold by the court at Covington. Alluding to this on the Cincinnati Commercial Gazette says:

A decree lately issued by the U. S. District Court, in Covington, Ky., for the sale of the Chattahoochee Railroad of Eastern Kentucky, is in accordance with an agreement made between the owners of the Charcoal Railway association, in the possession, Cincinnati and Chicago Railroad Company. This latter company intended to complete a railway line from the Ohio river to Charleston, W. Va., before January 1, 1880, thus opening up an entire new market for coal and timber.

They are extending the Charcoal Railway, and by the first of next May will reach the extensive fields of coal country which are equal in quality to any obtained from abroad.

When completed, the "Three C's" Railroad will extend from the Ohio river to the Big Sandy River to Pikeville, then divide and cross the boundary into Virginia through the breaks of the Cumberland. Travelling three Virginia and five Tennessee counties, it will enter North Carolina, cross the mountains, and finally end at the Atlantic ocean. Following this route a railroad will link every truck town of the Cumberland and Mountain areas, and by virtue of these connections will draw business from an immense field.

But to Cincinnati and Charleston merchants this road, when finished, will mean more than a road to a market, it will mean a commercial interchange of the highest value. With the West Indies almost at the mouth of her harbor, and less than 750 miles of railroad connecting the two cities, Charleston will be the largest port of entry for West Indian products and the chief hand port of the Southern states and Western meets. Between the two cities will speed long trains laden, while every mile of the intermediate country will contribute to the tonnage.

There will be an immense field to our mechanical and manufacturing interests. Marion, N. C., and Ashland, Ky., are fine iron ore, red, foaming and brown hematite, and the high grade magnetite ore of Cranberry. In the same belt are coal seams of great thickness and excellent abundance.

The formation of the Hanging Rock district, when supplied with these ores and white metal, will present the world with an ever-increasing source of wealth and to our mercantile houses. First, the Hanging Rock district, then Southwest Virginia, East Tennessee and Western North Carolina, finally, the upper part of the Blue Ridge, will be open to the world for exploitation.

Our city secured at an immense cost the trade flowing into it over the Cincinnati Northern. The "Three C's" road will give us a trade vastly greater without any call upon us for its construction.

The switch to connect the Kentucky Central with the Mayfield and Big Sandy at this point will, we are informed, be built at an early day.

The first of about 250 car loads of ties for the Mayfield and Big Sandy Railroad have been received at the Kentucky Central depot and are being delivered along the route in the East end.

A number of Kentucky Central officials, consisting of Receiver H. E. Huntington, General Passenger Agent S. F. B. Morse and Messrs. C. L. Brown, Eps. Randolph and James Stewart, arrived by special train last evening and spent the night here. They are inspecting the road and left this morning on return trip.

Mr. D. A. Shanahan, of the firm of Mason & Shanahan, railroad contractors, was seen by a Courier Journal reporter a day or so ago and asked concerning the new road which Mr. Huntington is building from Ashland, Ky., to Cincinnati.

Mr. Shanahan has been in charge of its construction, with headquarters at New Port.

Said Mr. Shanahan: "Work on the new line is progressing favorably. It is 143 miles from Covington to Ashland, but we expect to have the roadbed ready for the rails by next August. We will not, however, be able to complete the bridge across the Ohio river between Covington and Cincinnati before April, 1888. When this road is in operation it will give Huntington a direct line from Cincinnati to the East. At present his train runs over the Kentucky Central from Covington to Winchester. By the new route a haul of at least 100 miles distance will be saved."

"Will your firm do any of the work on the Louisville Southern?"

"We shall not. We have already enough work under contract to keep us engaged during the next year. I expect to go to Portsmouth, Ohio, early in January to take charge of a road which we have contracted to build from that point to Gallipolis. This road, except for a slight detour at one point, runs along the north bank of the Ohio river, and is nearly parallel with the new Huntington line we are building on the south bank."

THE KNIGHTS OF LABOR.

REPORTED REVOLT ASSUMES A SERIOUS AND DEFINITE SHAPE.

Prominent Labor Men Working to Organize a New Order—Fowlers' Views on Socialism—Two Thousand Brewery Employees Strike—Railroad Strike Ended.

New York, Dec. 31.—The revolt in the Knights of Labor seems to have assumed a definite shape. Some of the principal men in the order here, who have been dissatisfied with the management of the affairs of the order, have received circulars from dissatisfied knights in the west, suggesting the formation of an independent order of the Knights of Labor, separate from the order as it now exists, and on the lines that were originally laid down for the knights.

One of the principal laws of the proposed improved order is that as few officers as possible shall be chosen, and that salaries shall be in some way commensurate with the pay which the order could command in trade. The idea has met with much favor here, even with the members of District Assembly No. 49, who have not been suspended, and one of the most enthusiastic supporters of the new order is a brother of one of the members of the general executive board. It is said that copies of these circulars have been sent to well known opponents of the present general officers all over the country, and that several assemblies of the improved order will be holding their first meetings.

The movement in favor of a special meeting of the general assembly is growing, and those in favor of it say that it will soon be to start. Mr. John M. Workman, president of the central agents, is anxious for a special session to be called within the next three months. So certain are they of this that certain big trade districts which are on the verge of withdrawal have decided to withdraw at once, and the question is definitely settled. By doing this they will have a vote in the session. Until a special session is called there is no doubt that there will be a general strike which will involve one or more of the big New York trade districts.

The letter of Mr. Fowler, on the Socialists has caused a sensation among the Socialists in this city. S. E. Schevitz, the editor of the Vicks Zetting and the Leader, who is regarded as a radical, says:

"I cannot conceive how a man like Fowlers, who has been a member of the Socialist party, can have written such a letter. He even must have an offshoot of the party in his head and know well the principles of the organization. The Socialists do not believe in force as an offensive weapon in the solution of the problem which the labor movement represents. Mr. Fowler's letter is a clear admission of the use of the most active means in the Knights of Labor and many of his most ardent supporters are Socialists, affiliated members of the Socialist party. No matter how much he may say to the contrary, he is a Socialist."

Mr. Carpenter, aged eighty-five, a farmer, who is also a lawyer, of Indianapolis, Indiana, had a will written in consideration of his in his breast, and in fifteen minutes was dead.

Lucy Berry, wanted for complicity in the Watkins murder at Volcano, five years ago, was released from Canton, O., to Parkersburg, W. Va., on a requisition. She is wanted as a witness.

Mrs. Failey, of Shelbyville, Ind., playfully scolded a young man and was laid by stab in the back with a knife. She would have been killed, but a corset stay turned the blade.

Henry Peeks and John Kaye, the two white robbers who murdered John O. Hart, colored porter at the Huntington, Ind., depot, narrowly escaped lynching at the hands of a mob.

Several white toughs got into a negro church festival at Chillicothe, night before last, and a quarrel ensued, during which four shots were fired but no one hurt. John Mortimer, who was wounded with a poker, and William Lovett and George Walker, colored, were stabbed. The negroes had the whites arrested for creating a riot.

The Ohio State Food and Dairy commission reports violations of food adulteration laws prosecuted in Hamilton, Montgomery, and Dayton. Five persons were indicted, three were prosecuted and four were convicted. Total expense of the commission from May 14 to December 1, $2,888.83. Eight Cincinnati grocermen who failed to heed oil梳marginaria cards were fined $60 each.
